The dates, 14th to 18th, were confirmed in a telegram from William G. Robinson, managing director for the hotel association. "Approximately 500 to 600

delegates (hotel owners and operators throughout the state) will visit Palm Springs to attend the convention and it is felt that this meeting will be an excellent boost for our desert resort city," said Frank Ewing, head of the convention

Palm Springs on several pre vious occasions and the convention will give the delegation an excellent opportunity to look over the Palm Springs accommodations and activities and return to their cities with "word of mouth" publicity."

IT'S A SHAME that the desert around Palm Springs is Hawkins' English bulldog, really made so unsightly by the promiscuous dumping of trash, MEANT his natural expression today, for "Matey" took a tumble out of the Hawkins' car riding along the desert trails—and the Desert Riders onto his projecting chin as Ed think something should be done about it. This group is slowed suddenly for a passing about to undertake a compaign to clean up the piles of about to undertake a campaign to clean up the piles of so trash, and they should be given support. Efforts to prevent this unpardonable practice have thus far failed but Still, he's leaning again, after another attempt should be made to prevent it by law with a heavy penalty. In the meantime let's hope the Desert Riders get the help necsessary to clean up the offensive mess that exists in many localities. . . . For war and for peace-for business and pleasure-the airplane manufacturers of America are constantly devising new mediums in the conquest against gravity. Many of them will be on display at the Palm Springs airport next Sunday when the Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors "Air Education Day." There will be some interesting deminstrations also, beginning at 1 o'clock. Don't miss it! Remember also that the March of Dimes campaign asking for your help in the fight against infantile paralysis and that a benefit dinner for this fund will be held at the Tennis Club at 8 o'clock tonight. . . . Everybody is resting easier now that Killer Cook has been caught-which reminds us to remind you that it is a dangerous practice to crowd around police officers who are making an arrest. Officers cannot be blamed if such an inquisitive person is hit with a stray bullet. Keep away! . . . The fastest real estate transaction we ever heard of in Palm Springs occurred last week when Bill Boggess of the Robert Ransom firm took a listing on the home of B. M. Olden in Tahquitz River Estates at noon, sold it by 5 p.m. the same day to Edward Reed who moved in four days later after the Bank of America had sale go to help Chapter 66 carry on its hospital and rehabilitation work which is done by volunteer workers who contribute much time to the cause.

Rain-Making Plan Backed by Chambers

County Organization Asks Legislators for Enabling Act

Following close on the heels of a request by the county flood control and water conservation dsitrict to communities in the county to support a rain-making program, county chamber of commerce, in session at Indio Wednesday, urged the state to enact legislation which would permit such activity.
County supervisors Friday

voted to go all-out for a vast rain-making project in the county and asked cities and other organizations in the county to back the move.

IRWIN FARRAR, zone commissioner from Hemet-San Jacinto district, urged the board to take the action. He said State Senator Nelson Dilworth and Assemblyman John Babbage now had such a bill prepared but believed its chances of success would be greater with indica-tions of full county support.

The present state law pro-hibits flood districts from par-ticipating in rain-making experiments

Farrar told supervisors that the flood control district engi-neering staff could conduct scientific rain-making tests much more efficiently than if handled by many smaller groups.

COUNTY CHAMBER members also urged the county govern-ment to take action to head off damage from possible flash floods rushing off lands denuded by summer forest fires.

Both steps were proposed by the County Chamber's Water Committee and passed by the Chamber Board of Directors and the membership at large.

W. R. Hillery of Cathedral City, a county flood control district zone commissioner, spearheaded the action on the flood control recommendation for denuded Jands by asking that the county chamber urge the county flood control district to clear the Whitewater River channel in Whitewater canyon because a flash flood pouring down from Mt. San Gorgonio could wreak havoc in the upper Coachella

HE SAID 35,000 acres on Mt. San Gorgonio were burned off in last summer's forest fire, thus setting up a flood threat to a fish hatchery in Whitewater Canyon, Highway 99, railroads and power County Chamber Director T. C. Likins of Elsinore amended Hillery's proposal to include flood protection for all denuded lands in the County and pointed out that the burned-over area near Lakeland Village also poses a flood threat. Melvin Hansen of Banning, chairman of the Chamber Water Committee, made the proposal that resulted in the board of directors asking the state legislature for a law that would permit previously had taken a similar the county flood control district stand.

Club Women Awaiting Big Fashion Show

By RUTH MARTIN

The tide of excitement in Palm Springs rises higher daily regarding the magnificent "Desert Colorama" which is to be staged at the Palm Springs Woman's club on January 29 at a 9:30 a. m. breakfast and a two o'clock tea, when the J. W. Robinson company, Desmond's, and Bullock's unveil their first showing of beautiful fashions for the spring and summer of for the spring and summer of 1951.

In order to avoid the crush of the afternoon show, it is suggested by Mrs. Robert Ransom, general chairman, that as many as possible plan to attend the fashion breakfast at 9:30 a.m. when the clothes shown and order of the show will be identical. Mrs. John Williams will be in charge of the breakfast so it is sure to be a thoroughly delightful event and with Mrs. Harold Murphy in charge of the afternoon tea both affairs will be outstanding social events of the season.

Miss Winifred Waring, stylist expert from the J. W. Robinson company, is acting as co-ordinator of this season's fashion show and will commentate throughout the performances. Miss Waring has recently returned from the showing of spring and summer fashions by New York's couture group of New York's couture group of designers and will stress the importance of "fabric and color" paramount in this year's collections.

Eighteen beautiful models will be sent from the three stores to display the "colorama" fashions and this year a lovely matron model will be included matron model will be included with the models from each store so that clothes suitable for all ages from the debutante to the dignified matron may be viewed. The models will reach Palm Springs on Sunday evening, January 28, and again will be quartered at Warm Sands, a courtesy which has been extended by the manager, Mrs. Solle Manassee, for the second consecutive year.

Mrs. Solle Manassee, for the second consecutive year.

While tickets for the beautiful prizes donated by public spirited Palm Springs merchants are selling rapidly, some are still available, Great credit is due Mrs. Wm. McBride, donation chairman for her indefatigable efforts in securing these lovely prizes which are to be distributed at the morning and distributed at the morning and afternoon shows and much appreciation is due the merchants for their splendid cooperation. for their splendid cooperation in this worthy cause.

Social calendar for January—what there is left of it— is crammed with exiciting events. Parties of various kinds, with fashion shows predominating make up the program, dotted with breakfast and luncheon meetings planing for the months ahead. Then topping the list, the World Film Favorite Festival, when Hollywood comes to Palm Springs Jan. 27th and 28th in celebration of the international award to the two world favorites of the motion picture world. Invitations are being mailed to members and their friends for a gala banquet to be held at The Tennis Club when the presentation is made.

There will be fashion luncheons every Saturday at The Tennis club and The Desert Inn with some of the Village's most attractive women and girls modeling new spring fashions from the shops. A Fashion Tea at the Racquet Club next Thursday will be a showing of Irene models, Palm Springs being one of the three places in the United States selected for these showings.

Last but not least will be the Woman's Club Annual Fashion Show to be held at the club house on Jan. 29th, Everyone looks forward to this fashionable event each year and it has proven so popular and successful that the morning breakfast show is repeated in the afternoon with a tea. Title of the showing this year is "Desert Colorama."

By R. A. Rentfro, Pastor Seventh-Day Adventist Church The story is told of an Italian laborer in Los Angeles who spent twenty years digging sewers. About his neck he wore a little bag containing a "little red thing he had picked up." One day a glint of red caught the eye of an onlooker. The bag was opened and found to contain a pigeon ruby worth $20,000. string about his neck.

Just so close, dear friend, to us is the wealth of God's love.
It is about us when we go and when we come. God's love is as close to us as the air is to the flower, as contingent as the dew to the fern. His love is our life. "In Him we live, and move, and have our being.'

Listen to these words: "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he will sustain thee," Psalms 55:22. God's word also adds this beautiful thought—"Casting all your cares upon Him for He careth for you." Yes, Jesus Christ is the lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world. When He came into the world, it was said of Him: "They shall call his name Jesus, for it is he who shall save his people from their sins." To the exhausted and discouraged soul, He says: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give

It is the most astute treatise on personality problems there is. It is far ahead of all the popular books on psychiatry and psy-chology in its understanding of why people do what they do and what happens to them as a result. Today modern scientific students of human naentific students of numan na-ture are making discoveries which confirm everything the Bible teaches in the fields of mental, emotional and physical

A GREAT PSYCHOLOGIST wrties that infants can catch fear and hatred from the people around them more quickly than they can catch measles or any other infectious disease. And, once they have caught these things, they burrow deeply into their consciousness and may easily remain there a lifetime. But fortunately, infants can also catch love and goodness and faith and so grow up to become healthy, normal children and

If we have been infected, whether in infancy or later in life, it is possible to throw off these infections. Too many of us fail to do so. I would hesitate to try to count the number of cases I have personally seen of people who would be healthy, happy individuals if they could heal these festering sores inside them. Often, doctors will send a patient to us at our church clinic with a note saying that there is noth-ing physically wrong with the bearer but that what ails him is something on his mind which he needs to confess. They ask us to help their patients find God's forgiveness and peace so that they may be well again.

A minister in a mid-western city tells me of a man who once elephoned him for an interview The voice he heard over the phone was obviously that of a very sick man. Several interviews followed this first one. Each time the man came to the minister's house, he needed to be helped by his wife. But finally, they discovered the source of his infection. He confessed to the minister, in the privacy of his study, that he had been unfaithful to his wife and that he had committed other sins which tinued to haunt him.
